Howell Township Public Schools Earns "Top L.E.A.D. School District of the Month" Recognition

Jeanna Ribon, Howell Township Public School District SAC and Officer Maureen McBride, Howell Township Police Department

The Howell Township Public School District earned recognition as the "Top L.E.A.D. School District of the Month" in June 2018, just 8 months after launching L.E.A.D.'s "Too Good for Drugs" program in collaboration with the Howell Township Police Department.

The Law Enforcement Against Drugs (L.E.A.D.) "Too Good for Drugs" program is an evidence-based life skills initiative funded by a state grant and provided by the Mendez Foundation. L.E.A.D. increases protective factors while reducing risk factors related to the use of alcohol, drugs, and tobacco.

Monmouth County Sees Reduction in Opioid Overdoses for 2017, Despite Rising Trend in NJ

For real-time data on opioid-related information by county, visit the State of New Jersey Office of the Attorney General's website: <http://www.nj.gov/oag/njcares/>.

According to the State of New Jersey Office of the Attorney General's NJ Cares data and information tracking program, Narcan administrations in Monmouth County dropped to 671 in 2017 from 714 in 2016 (Narcan is a brand name for naloxone, an opiate antagonist that can reverse the effects of an opioid overdose to prevent death).

Monmouth County also saw a decline in fatal overdoses, dropping to 36 in 2017 from 42 in 2016 (Office of the Monmouth County Prosecutor, <http://mcponj.org/>).

There were 371,731 opioid dispensations in Monmouth County in 2017, down from 401,916 in 2016 and 431,993 in 2015 (New Jersey Prescription Monitoring Program, <http://www.njconsumeraffairs.gov/pmp/>).

Howell Township Public Schools Earns “Top L.E.A.D. School District of the Month” Recognition

Launched in October 2017 by the Howell Township Public School District and Howell Township Police Department, the program links students, families, schools, and communities as students cover 10 in-class workshops and then complete extended reinforcement activities at home with family members. The workshops start with goal setting and progress to cover topics such as decision-making, identifying and managing emotions, effective communication, bonding and relationships, managing mistakes, peer pressure refusal, and the effects of alcohol, tobacco, and marijuana use.

Jeanna Ribon, the school district’s student assistance coordinator, and Officer Maureen McBride, Howell Police Department’s K-8 school resource officer, collaboratively teach L.E.A.D. to all of the district’s 700 fifth graders in preparation for the upcoming middle-school transition.

In June, 5th-graders at Memorial Elementary, Newbury, Ramtown, Ardena, and Aldrich Schools celebrated their L.E.A.D. graduations with t-shirts provided by the Howell Alliance as a celebration of their accomplishments and success with making positive life choices.

Monmouth County Sees Reduction in Opioid Overdoses for 2017, Despite Rising Trend in NJ

Ocean County also registered declines in Narcan deployment and fatal overdoses. Ocean County’s Narcan administrations dropped by 36.4%: 2017 reported 621 administrations, down from 977 in 2016 (NJ Cares).

Ocean County fatal overdoses came in at 163 for 2017, down from 216 the previous year (<https://tinyurl.com/yda2tnas>).

Despite the positive news for Monmouth and Ocean counties, New Jersey as a whole reported 14,356 naloxone administrations by law enforcement and emergency medical services in 2017. From January 1st to June 3rd, 2018, there were 1,268 suspected drug toxicity deaths across the state (NJ Cares), and while there is no confirmed NJ Cares data for total overdose deaths statewide for 2017, the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) reports 2,284 overdose deaths in New Jersey from July 1st, 2016 to June 30th, 2017 (<http://s.nj.com/Q4YnonK>).

Drug overdoses killed 63,632 Americans in 2016, with 66% of these deaths attributed to prescription and illicit opioids. Sharp increases in deaths due to synthetic opioids, such as fentanyl, have also been confirmed. (CDC, <https://tinyurl.com/yaavzfgf>)

Strategies to Combat Addiction Include...

- Participating in drug take-back programs to reduce supply of and access to unused prescription opioids, such as New Jersey’s Project Medicine Drop, <https://tinyurl.com/y8ngq262> and the twice-yearly DEA National Drug Take-Back <https://tinyurl.com/gscxag9>
- Preventing and penalizing the diversion of controlled substances, such as opioids, before, during, and after prescription filling
- Reducing the amount of opioids prescribed by health care professionals
- Educating prescribing health care professionals on pain management alternatives to opioids
- Increasing naloxone access and training to divert opioid overdoses
- Educating the public on substance abuse prevention, addiction, treatment, and recovery, as well as the risks of prescribed opioid use
- Utilizing statewide prescription drug monitoring programs and electronic medical record (EMR) access across health care agents
- Changing prescribing and insurer policies regarding opioids
- Ensuring appropriate narcotics scheduling under the Controlled Substances Act

These strategies can be initiated at the community, state, and national levels.

CFC's Annual Faux-Chella Rock the Farm Music Festival Fundraiser

When: Saturday, 9/29/18, 12 to 10 p.m.
Where: Grant Avenue, Seaside Heights, NJ
Tickets: $25 in advance/ $35 at the door/ $150 VIP/
Kids 10 & under FREE
Information: www.rockthefarmnj.com

On September 29th, CFC Loud N Clear Foundation will host its 5th annual Faux-Chella Rock the Farm music festival fundraiser from 12 to 10 p.m. on Grant Avenue in Seaside Heights, rain or shine.

Rock the Farm will feature three stages with on-going live performances by well-known cover bands playing tributes to AC/DC, The Eagles, Fleetwood Mac, Neil Young, Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers, The Beatles, Aerosmith, Guns N' Roses, and more.

Festival-goers will enjoy unique craft vendors, food trucks, a family-fun kid zone, yoga, and other opportunities for family fun. The annual event's popular foam party promises to be one of the evening's highlights.

50/50 raffle tickets are being sold in advance for a $10,000 cash prize to be announced at the event ($10,000 prize value if all tickets are sold).

Each year, the Butterfly Memorial Garden provides a peaceful sanctuary, with over 500 butterflies fluttering around the enclosure. Photos of loved ones lost to addiction decorate and surround the garden as reminder of the lives and potential lost to addiction. Later in the evening, the butterflies will be ceremoniously released.

Rock the Farm also hosts a wine and beer garden, with proceeds from alcohol sales benefiting the Seaside Business Improvement District. As part of their recovery philosophy, CFC supports real-life exposure to clean and sober, which means learning to comfortably navigate social events where alcohol is served while strongly and proudly maintaining sobriety and recovery without missing out on life's special moments.

CFC Hosts Refuge Recovery

Refuge Recovery is hosted by CFC Loud N Clear Foundation Wednesdays, 7 p.m. at CFC headquarters, 260 Casino Drive, Farmingdale

Refuge Recovery is a mindfulness-based addiction recovery community that practices and utilizes Buddhist philosophy as the foundation of the recovery process. Drawing inspiration from the core teachings of the Four Noble Truths, Refuge Recovery places emphasis on both knowledge and empathy as a means for overcoming addiction and its causes. Those struggling with any form of addiction greatly benefit when they are able to understand the suffering that addiction has created while developing compassion for the pain they have experienced.

Refuge Recovery is a systematic approach to training hearts and minds to see clearly and respond to life with understanding and non-harming that will eventually become a natural way of being.

The Four Noble Truths: Addiction creates suffering. The cause of addiction is repetitive craving. Recovery is possible. The path to recovery is available.

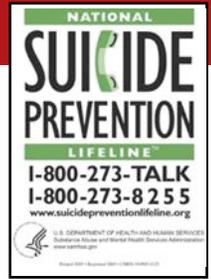

The Four Foundations of Mindfulness: Mindfulness of body/breath. Mindfulness of feelings. Mindfulness of mind states. Mindfulness of mind objects (truths).

Heart Practice Meditations: Kindness towards all experiences. Compassion/forgiveness towards the suffering we experience and have caused. Appreciation towards pleasure. Equanimity and understanding the reality of on-going change.

The 8-Fold Path to Recovery: Understanding, intention, communication/community, action, livelihood/service, effort, mindfulness/meditations, concentration/meditations.

TEEN SUICIDE PREVENTION

Suicide is the second leading cause of deaths nationwide for teens 15 to 19 years of age, coming in just behind accidents, according to 2014 data from the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). In New Jersey, it is the third leading cause of death for youth ages 10 to 24.

Data presented at the 2017 Pediatric Academic Societies Meeting showed a sharp increase in the number of youth hospitalizations for suicidal thoughts and self-harming actions. Between 2008 and 2015, data from 32 children's hospitals nationwide reported 118,363 total suicide or self-harming instances among 5- to 17-year-old patients, with peaks at the beginning and end of the school year.

Suicide Warning Signs:

- Expressing thoughts about suicide, death, or dying; suicide plans; a loss of will or purpose; or feelings of hopelessness with no way out
- Abusing alcohol or substances to get high
- Expressing increased anxiety, anger, and aggression
- Withdrawing from loved ones and social encounters
- Engaging in risky, dangerous behaviors without care
- Declining interest in typical behaviors or activities
- Not maintaining personal hygiene or regular eating and sleeping habits
- Struggling to cope with a loss or trauma

Do NOT Delay When Suicide Warning Signs Are Observed!

Suicide can be prevented when you are aware of the warning signs and immediately reach out for help at first warning signs of distress.
